

<http://www.payperviewfilter.com/Home.asp?rid=10089>

The website at the URL above claims to be legal, but sells a product that allows you to "Never Get Charged For Pay Per View Again!!!"

It apparently allows consumers to:

- * View Pay Per View Movies and Block Unwanted Billing Signals
- * Intruders can not ZAP or Detect the newer PPVF-5
- * Blocks unwanted interference while surfing on a cable modem
- * Enjoy the freedom to play movies without being billed!
- * Works Anytime!
- * Works All the Time!

Works On All...

Pay-Per View Channels

Adult Channels

Pay-Per-View Movies

Special Order Sport Channels

Special Events such as Boxing Fights and Wrestling Events"

In addition, the legal portion of this website states that:

"The express purpose for this device is to allow for authorized testing of cable components by certified technicians on privately controlled cable networks and to allow for protection from unwanted interference and signals for anyone who owns a cable box or a privately owned cable network."

This sounds illegal, to me, since no one is going to use this product as a "certified technician."

The company is an overseas-owned company, according to the website.

Can anything be done?